Hot tip

Overpass reaches end

The Illinois Department of Transportation says the lane restrictions on the bridge carrying Broadway Avenue in Venice over the Terminal Railroad Yard will be removed this Tuesday. Traffic will be restricted to one lane in each direction while the bridge was reconstructed by providing a new roadway deck. The major improvement was completed on time by the Keller Construction Co. of Edwardsville.

WEEDS ARE mowed down by Norman Soechting on Friday afternoon.

Simon tribute set for Sept. 8

GRANITE CITY — A non-partisan tribute to U.S. Sen. Paul Simon is being planned Sept. 8 at the Meridian Ballroom of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The program will include several nationally known speakers and a slide presentation covering Simon's more than 35 years of public service.

"This is a sit-down dinner type of affair," said Granite City Mayor Von Dee Cruse.

"It's not about political speeches or partisan politics. It's just a chance for his friends to pay tribute.

"He's represented the voters of this region since 1954, so I think it's high time we pay tribute to him."

Tickets for the tribute are $50 each and may be purchased by contacting Mayor Cruse.

A Democrat now residing in Makanda, Simon was the newspaper editor in town when he was elected to the Illinois House of Representatives after serving in the Army in the early 1950s.

Simon also represented Madison County in the Illinois Senate and then became lieutenant governor of Illinois. He later was a college professor and a congressman and defeated incumbent Sen. Charles Percy in the 1984 senatorial election.

Simon faces a challenge this November for his senate seat from state Rep. Lynn Martin, R-Loves Park.

County distributes $51 million in taxes

EDWARDSVILLE — Madison County Treasurer Michael "Mick" Henkhaus said last week his office has distributed more than $51,000,000 to the various taxing districts in the county since beginning regular real estate tax collections May 30.

Henkhaus requires that at least one distribution of funds be made within 30 days after the first due date, which was July 9.

Henkhaus made 10 distributions, nine more than the minimum required, prior to July 30 after the due date of the first half of 1990 (1989 tax year) taxes.

"This represents the fastest distribution of real estate tax money in the state," Henkhaus said.

"The quick distribution of collected money results in the taxing districts receiving their money sooner, and possibly avoiding the borrowing of money to fund operations."

The county treasurer collects property taxes in all of Madison County except for Venice and Granite City townships, which have their own collectors.

Weeds-be-gone

Raggedy lot cleared by brush hog

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The sea of weeds along Sinclair Avenue is gone.

At 8 a.m. Friday, Norman Soechting started tackling the 16½ acres of weeds with his brush hog. At 1:30 p.m., he had stopped and was three-quarters of the way done. He finished it before sunset.

The residents of Sinclair Avenue said the head-high weeds, home to a variety of animals and insects, had become a jungle capable of swallowing a child.

The field is in an area zoned residential, so city law requires that it be kept trimmed.

City Inspector Vince Scrum mailed a warning to the owner of record, Charles Pejakovich of Collinsville, on July 30 and issued a citation Aug. 15.

On Aug. 18, the same day, Soechting, Don Pejakovich of Collinsville, a brother of Charles, got in touch with Scrum and promised to take care of the problem.

On Friday, Don Pejakovich said he arranged to do something as soon as he learned of the problem.

"I really didn't know anything about it," he said.

Pejakovich agreed to let Soechting farm the land and Soechting agreed to cut the weeds right away.

Soechting said he used to farm the land, growing soybeans, and is looking forward to farming it again.

"But not soybeans," Soechting said. "You try to grow soybeans after all these weeds and all you'll get is more weeds."

Instead, Soechting said he will plant the field with winter wheat.

That's fine with Ed and Ruth Courtwright, who said their front yard Friday and watched Soechting at work.

The Courtwrights, who have lived on Sinclair for 40 years, said the field caused no problems when it was farmed.

"It looks so much nicer already," Ruth said. "It's so nice to get rid of the weeds."

HEADING HOME: Seven-year-old Tera Hill gets onto her school bus after a full day of first grade at the Venice Public School. The first full day of classes in the Venice district was Friday. Granite City and Madison schools will start on Tuesday.

Workers accuse Touchette of voter influence

By David Migoya

with Touchette-backed candidates and to stuff the ballot box with ballots choosing candidates that didn't win.

A St. Clair County grand jury last week indicted Willette Ash, a Democratic election judge from Precinct 27, for allegedly entering an election booth with a voter and directing her how to vote during the March 20 primary in Centreville Township.

However, witnesses said they knew of almost 100 separate incidents Ash was involved in that day.

Ash's indictment was the result of an investigation by the Illinois State Board of Elections into allegations of election law violations in Centreville Township.

On Friday, Touchette said he feared the grand jury was investigating allegations made against him and that recent publicity could sway it to bring an indictment against him.

The Illinois Board of Elections investigation began in April after Centreville Mayor Riley Owens III filed a complaint saying election laws were violated in several Centreville precincts, particularly precincts 7, 12, 17 and 27. Owens' complaint focused on political and voter participation by Touchette-Touchette's nephew, County Board member Joe Touchette, and campaign workers for him.

Other complaints alleged no Republican judges, only Democratic judges, were at the polls, a violation of state election laws.

Francis Touchette, a political power in the area for more than half a century, has denied any knowledge of wrongdoing and has said Owens' allegations are based on personal vendetta and dissatisfaction with election results.

Touchette also discounted the recent allegations made by former employees.

"I never heard of any voter influence," he said. "I never heard of any voter influence you have stems from wild charges and some comes from people that were less honest when they worked for me," Touchette said from his Belleville home Friday.

"I never had to steal votes from people and it's amazing that all this would pop out now," he said. "It seems these things stay in the news because it's important and that I make a good target."

"I run a very strict office and under strict guidelines. This whole thing is completely out of proportion."

However, former employees of the township said Touchette controlled voters and used various forms of intimidation — dating as far back as 1962 — in an effort to garner the necessary political backing he needed to keep him and his followers in office.

One former township case worker, Fredella Campbell, said she rarely provided lists of general assistance recipients and was expected to visit their homes to tell them for whom to vote.

"We also were to see if general assistance people were registered to vote and if not, we were to do so right there in the office," Campbell said.

Campbell said she was instructed by her supervisors, David Sams and Dolores O'Guinn, to

Briefly

Little Lamb open house tea

An open house tea is set for 10 to 11:30 a.m. Thursday, Aug. 30, at Little Lamb Preschool, located in the basement of Hope Lutheran Church, 3715 Wabash Ave.

Parents and children may visit the facility and meet the teachers. The school will officially begin classes on Tuesday, Sept. 4. Three-year-old pupils will attend sessions on Tuesday and Thursday, while youngsters who are four years old will meet each Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

The morning classes are scheduled from 9:15 to 11:30 and the afternoon classes are from 12:15 to 2:30.

A few openings remain in the afternoon classes, it was reported by Sarah Repp, director.

Anyone interested in the program is invited to attend the open house or call the church at 376-7568 or Repp at 931-1256.

Granite has 8 homeless dogs

GRANITE CITY — The Animal Control Department reports it had eight animals at the city pound as of Aug. 24. Persons wishing to reclaim or adopt one of the animals should call Animal Control at 452-6233. The animals at the pound are:

- A large black-and-white male mixed breed.
- A medium-sized black female mixed-Labrador.
- A large black-and-brown male shepherd found in the 2900 block of Circle Drive.

- A small brown male mixed-hound found in the 2200 block of Missouri Avenue.
- A small white female mixed-spitz found in the 2300 block of Iowa Street.

- A small black-and-brown female mixed-breed found in the 2300 block of Adams Street.
- A small white-and-brown female mixed-breed found in the 2000 block of Richmond Avenue.

- A large gold male retriever found in the 2300 block of Edwards Street.

In addition, the department had a large number of puppies needing homes.

By statute, animals not claimed or adopted may be destroyed five working days following their capture by Animal Control.

Stern new principal of Mitchell School

GRANITE CITY — The School Board has announced the appointment of Ron Stern as the principal of Mitchell Grade School, 316 East Chain of Rocks Road.

Stern most recently worked at Normal Community High School in Normal, Ill., as science and social studies teacher, assistant basketball coach, assistant baseball coach and assistant soccer coach.

Stern is a 1972 graduate of Madison High School.

He received his bachelor's degree in secondary and master's degree in educational administration from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

In 1984-85, Stern served as assistant principal of St. Paul High School in Highland.

At Mitchell, he replaces Joan Harris, who accepted an administrative position in Elgin, Ill.

Make kids' return to school easier

By Harry A. Briggs
Madison County regional superintendent of schools

Welcome back! Schools around the county are opening.

As parents, we turn our attention to making sure our children are ready to attend.

There are many things to do: school supplies to purchase, a trip to the doctor for a physical exam, new shoes and clothes to buy. When it was teaching the first day of school, I always smelled like a department store.

The opening of classes for the 1990-91 school year brings some anxiety on the part of parents and students alike. As parents, we want to see our children succeed.

To that end, we work very hard. But we realize there are many things in life we cannot do for our children; learning is one of these.

We cannot learn for someone else; however, there are ways we can help another person learn.

There is nothing new about the following tips to help your child learn. They have been proven to help.

Try them. Adopt them. Improve them. Insist on a good night's sleep. Being rested and alert is very important to learning.

Start the day with a good breakfast. A healthy meal has earned more concentration on learning. A good breakfast does not have to be bacon and eggs, but must be nutritional and filling. Give your child a good start to the day.

Generate a positive attitude toward life. Show your love to your child. A positive attitude is "caught," not "taught." You set the example by being positive, caring and loving. Shared love!

will grow.

Expect the best and praise your child for a good job. Set and expect high expectations for your child, but do not set them too high. Knowing your child and his/her capabilities is very important. Use praise but don't overdo it. Praise only when in your opinion your child is deserved.

Give your child some responsibility at home. Your child should be assigned jobs at home which will encourage the development of responsibility and good work habits. Encourage interest in a hobby or other leisure-time activity.

Listen! When your child has a problem or a joy to share — listen.

Learn to ask open-ended questions and teach your child to do so. Thinking and creativity should be encouraged.

Provide a quiet place for your child to do their homework if it is well lighted, there are good reference materials available and it is free of television or radio listening. It is best to designate certain time if at all possible.

Display a world map in your home. Talk about and locate places that are discussed on television, in the newspapers, or at school. A child will learn early that there is a world outside of the community and home.

Limits watching television as much as possible. Try to develop a good reading habit for your child. Encourage independent reading.

Play table games (Scrabble, Monopoly, Uno, Trivial Pursuit). These will stimulate logical thinking. Besides, they are fun!

Have a successful year.

Dear Wayne
On behalf of the faculty, administration and the Board of Trustees of Belleville Area College, I would like to express my admiration of achievement of academic excellence this past year. You have qualified for the highest honors at the college for part-time students. Part-time students who have accumulated a minimum of 12 semester hours during two regular semesters while maintaining a grade point average of 3.5 or better are eligible for the high honors.

You are an important component of this institution, and I am pleased to recognize you for establishing an academic record of which you can be justifiably proud. I am sure that you, as a part-time student, possess a personal goal of continuing your education amidst other life priorities.

Best wishes to you on your future endeavors. Hope Belleville Area College can continue to assist you when appropriate in your academic pursuits.

Sincerely,

THEODORE H. LEWIS

Medicare to be topic Tuesday

The Ostomy Support Group will be holding its August meeting at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 28, in Pascal Hall on the ground floor of St. Elizabeth Medical Center. SEMC Auxiliary member Helen Bergfeld will present a program on the "Medicare Assistance Program."

The assistance program was created by SEMC's Auxiliary to help area residents with their Medicare and insurance claims, free of charge. It is staffed by SEMC Auxiliary members who have special training in insurance matters. They assist in filing claims and work closely with the physician's office staff to resolve problems.

Refreshments will be served at the meeting.

The Ostomy Support Group is designed to provide fellowship among people who share a common experience and can provide support to others. It is open to anyone who has had a colostomy, ileostomy or urostomy.

Family and friends as well as those with ostomies are encouraged to attend.

For more information, the number is 798-3167.

Two local residents recently attended a week-long Careers in Aerospace Summer Camp held at Parks College of St. Louis University on the campus in Cahokia.

Attending from Granite City were Jeffrey Joseph Seitz, son of James and Diana Seitz; and Rick Evans, son of Norma Evans.

The campers, who were high school students entering through 12th grade, participated in aerospace activities including model rocket assembly and launch, flight simulator instruction and flying time in a Mooney aircraft.

Applications are available in the Graduate School of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsburg for grants for graduate study abroad.

For additional information, including procedures and application forms, interested persons may contact the SIUE Graduate School at 692-3160.

Applicants sought for study abroad

Several Granite City area students have been selected by the Greater Belleville Area Youth Leadership Salute Program, a salute to high school juniors who are both academic and leadership achievers.

The youth leaders invited to participate in the program and/or national programs by writing an essay. Regional and national award committees assist in selecting the National Youth Leader of the Year, who receives a $1,500 scholarship.

Winners receive an all-expense paid trip to attend the youth leadership conference, Town Meeting On Tomorrow, in St. Louis, held during October.

Local Youth Salute participants included: Jann Blahé, Webster Area College; Jim Compton, Magna Banks; Rick Arnold, Journal Newspapers, and Tom McCarthy, Cedarleaf Photography.

Granite City High School students included:

Sarah E. Patton, daughter of Greg and Janis Patton. School activities she is involved in include, National Honor Society, Flag Auxiliary, Science Club, Social Studies club, Spirit club, Foreign Policy club, baseball statistician, athletic and main office worker, and Secondary Honors Program.

Patton is a member of the Holy Family Church Youth Group and the Madison County Teen Leadership Conference. She would like to continue her education at the University of Evansville.

Viniece Berry, daughter of Kent and Faith Holssinger, is involved in the Varsity Club, Foreign Language club, Photography club secretary, National Honor Society, tennis team and DARE.

Rashanda McGhee, daughter of Robert and Flodia McGhee, is a member of the Student Council, Peer Leader.

School

Student takes part in 'Space Camp'

A total of 67 juniors and seniors from throughout Illinois participated in a new foreign language program offered at the Illinois Mathematics and Science Academy (IMSA).

Summer Ad' Ventures in Foreign Languages included students who had successfully completed the second level of instruction in German, French or Spanish.

Local students participating were Michelle Lee Randall and Jennifer Anne Valbert, both of Granite City.

Selected from a total of 130 applicants, the students spent a week at the academy reading, speaking and writing solely in German, French and Spanish.

The theme of the 1990 program was "Old World—Many Cultures."

Students explored the connections between the study of a particular language and disciplines such as literature, art, music, international relations, world economics, global politics and technology.

All classroom instruction was provided in foreign languages, and field experiences were an integral part of the program.

Students visited ethnic communities in the Chicago area and participated in the annual meeting of the Art Institute of Chicago, Goethe Institute, French Alliance and the Museum of Mexican Art.

At Space Camp's campus near NASA's Kennedy Space Center in Florida, the training includes tours of KSC and its visitor's center, Spaceport USA.

U.S. Space Camp in Huntsville offers advanced five-day training programs for young people in grades seven through nine; eight-day college-accredited programs for high school students; and a five-day challenge for ninth through 11th graders that is patterned after the training of high performance jet pilots.

Japanese festival continues tradition

By Robbi Courtaway

Staff writer

"Seeing Japan," the 16th annual Japanese Festival, which opened Saturday (Aug. 25) at the Missouri Botanical (Shaw's) Garden, should be the biggest and best ever, organizers predict.

In fact, the 10-day festival may be the largest of its kind in the country, said Douglas Arnold, public relations manager for the garden, 4344 Shaw Blvd., St. Louis.

"If the weather holds out, I think we're going to have a record-breaking year," Arnold said. "We're bracing for it." The festival, which last year drew 50,000 to 60,000 people, this year, however, may as many as 15,000 additional patrons may be on hand due to recent positive publicity about the garden, and word-of-mouth about the festival.

Highlights of the 1990 festival will include acclaimed storyteller Brenda Wong Aoki and calligrapher Kazumi Tomochi-Aoki, dressed in black kimono robes of the traditional Japanese storytellers, will weave Japanese folk tales and stories of ghosts and spirits in several sessions during the festival.

"She's got a national reputation as being probably one of the finest Oriental storytellers in America today," Arnold said. "She's really a spotlight this year."

Aoki's "Obake: Tales of Spirit and Spirits" will be presented at 1 and 3:30 p.m. Aug. 30, noon and 6 p.m. Sept. 1, and 1 and 4:30 p.m. Sept. 2 in the Japanese Garden. "Japanese Folktales" may be heard at 10 a.m. Aug. 31 in the Japanese Garden and at 1:30 p.m. in Shoemberg Auditorium.

For the first time, child care will be offered this year on the evenings of the regular weekend candlelight-walk around the Japanese Garden, Sept. 1 and 2.

The Shaw Church Children's Center, a state-licensed day care facility on the northeast corner of Shaw and Tower Grove avenues, will provide child care between 5 and 10 p.m. Cost will be $10 for the first three hours and $2 for each additional hour. Advanced registration is recommended; for more information or to register, those interested should call 771-0782.

The candlelight walk, which features the serenity of the Seiwa-en Japanese Garden under the glow of candles, take place from 8 to 10 p.m.

Other festival highlights will include Japanese mime Yassu Hoshikawa, exhibits of Haiku poetry, Japanese cloisonne and Ikebana, or Japanese flower arranging, photographic exhibits and Buddhist demonstrations of classical Japanese dance, folk dancing and Kabuki dance; a series of five Japanese films; kite making and Koi fish displays; presentations of Japanese fashion and Origami presentations; Taiko drummers; and a children's day Aug. 31.

Those who wish more information may call the Japanese Festival Hotline at (314) 577-5198. An operator will answer questions week days from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on weekends from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The festival runs through Labor Day.

Brando plays comic in funny 'Freshman'

Harry Hamm

The name Marlon Brando will sell a lot of tickets to the film "The Freshman" (* * * and right), so the movie represents Brando's only major comic role outside of "Guys and Dolls" in 1955. The anticipation of his presence helps propel this college-boy comedy.

Brando appears as Carmine Sabatini, an immigrant "importer" in New York City who operates from his private street-front club in Manhattan's Little Italy. Sabatini is (physically) much like Grable's Dumbstruck in the "Godfather" films. Even the voice is similar, although Sabatini demonstrates a flair for understated humor that Corleone never reveals.

Matthew Broderick is Clark Kellogg, an incoming college freshman from Vermont. Kellogg has left his mom and animal rights activist stepfather to pursue suicidal studies at New York University. When Clark Kellogg has stepped off the train at Grand Central Station, he is conned out of his luggage and $60 by a hustler named Victor, played by Bruno Kirby.

In classic Kellogg style, on the street the next day and after apprehending the culprit, who offers to make amends, Kellogg is taken by Victor to meet his uncle Carmine (Brando), who offers to make everything right by giving Kellogg a job as a high-speed delivery boy at $1,000 per week.

From this point, Kellogg is immersed in a off-beat plot that includes one of the world's largest hedge funds, underground government agents, a German businessman (Maximilian Schell) and Carmine's amorous daughter Tina, played by Penelope Ann Miller, who decides in a flash that Kellogg is marriage material.

All Kellogg wants is his normal life back.

Rated PG (mild violence).

Back from the road to Cairo

Maxine Duniphian covers the Mitchell area for the Press-Record/Journal. She can be contacted at 931-3714.

Maybelle Dillman of Guth Place and her daughter, Waneeta Pfeiffer, of Old Alton Road, have returned from Cairo, where they attended the "The Weekend Mohundro Reunion."

Upon arriving Friday, everyone met at the home of Duard Mohundro for an evening of fellowship.

Saturday was spent at Birds Point Park, situated at the confluence of the Ohio and the Mississippi Rivers near Cairo. A picnic lunch was enjoyed by the estimated 75 relatives present.

After lunch, several family members toured nearby Magnolia Manor Mansion, where President and Mrs. Ulysses Grant had spent many hours socializing with their friends who owned the mansion at that time, it was reported. Everyone went to the Duard Mohundro residence for a fish fry on Sunday.

Before returning home Mrs. Peerman visited the gravesite of her father, the late Ernest Dillman, at the Mound City National Cemetery.

Present besides Dillman, Peerman and Dillman's brother, Duard, were her brother, Carlos Mohundro of High Hill, Mo., her sister, Juanita Hurndon of Wright City, Mo., and her sister-in-law, Jean Mohundro of Highland.

Also attending were relatives from Calmar City, Mo., Phoenix, Ariz., Jonesboro, Ark., and from Illinois. ***

Helen (Schafer) Pfeiffer of Old Alton Road was the guest of honor at a Schaefer family's annual picnic on Sunday, Aug. 19, when she marked her 86th birthday with 50 relatives and four friends present.

Four generations of the family attended the event, including the honoree, seven of her eight children, Walter, William, Oliver and Leroy Schafer, Betty Buehler, Leon Stines and a stepdaughter, Florence Stokes. ***

Also among the guests were 22 of Mrs. Pfeiffer's 28 grandchildren, 14 of her 28 great-grandchildren and two of her nephews.

The picnic and birthday party was held at the home of the honoree's son and daughter-in-law,

William and Margo Schafer, in Highland. They enjoyed a covered dish dinner and two birthday cakes were served. Games were played throughout the day.

Pictures were taken and the honoree received her many gifts. ***

A senior dance, sponsored by the Belleville Area College Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP), was held yesterday evening, Aug. 10, in the cafeteria at the Granite City cafeteria.

Musics was provided by Mel Berkel and the Variety Men.

The dance, which was open to all senior residents, a majority of those attending were RSVP members. Many of the 82 registered guests are approaching their 80th birthday, plus several years beyond that age, but most spent the evening on the dance floor — "dancing the night away," one participant noted.

Door prizes were awarded and refreshments were served. The refreshments included a decorated cake, donated for the occasion by Thomas Mortuaries of Granite City. ***

Norma Isenmann of Morrison Road is recuperating at home after spending a week at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where she was treated for congestive heart failure.

Honored at retirement breakfast

Carl Cuccatti of Bluebird Lane was honored at a retirement breakfast recently at the McDonnell Douglas Corp. plant in St. Louis, where he had worked for 34 years.

Joining with his co-workers at the event were the honoree's wife, Carol; son, Phillip, two daughters, Tonya Cuccatti and Angela Pacatte, and his granddaughter, Jessica Pacatte.

• Touchette

regularly pick up voters and transport them to the polls, all on town time.

Both Sams and O'Guinn continued to work at the township building and have been employees of Touchette for nearly 30 years.

Campbell was given the township office in July over what she described as a flap over a leave of absence and sick time she had taken.

However, although Campbell said she believed the instructions were handed down from Touchette, "she wasn't really culpable since no instruction came directly from him."

Once a year, as Touchette's Roosevelt Dinner approached, workers often were given as many as 18 tickets apiece to either sell or give away to friends, Sams said. Robert Price, who is currently an alderman for Golden Gardens in Centreville.

"Your job was in jeopardy if you didn't buy (or sell) those tickets," Price said.

He recalled that Touchette withheld $250 from general assistance money earmarked for rent payments to Price, who was a low-income housing landlord, in order to pay the balance for tickets Price was to have sold.

"I called him into his office and told him to buy the tickets," said Price, who worked for Touchette from 1973 through 1976. "I said I didn't have the money and he said, 'Go get it.' I paid $50, and he held the next few of my rental checks."

A former employee of Touchette in the 1970s, said she and others were required to send various political announcements, campaign fliers, and even Christmas cards for top political figures such as Touchette and his nephew, Joe Touchette, who is his uncle's administrative assistant at the township.

"We told general assistance people to sign election petitions for candidates and who to elect in the next election," the worker said. "We would stamp and stuff envelopes with political pamphlets and campaign literature and if you didn't finish we took it home to do."

"We were asked to take political petitions with us during our case load interviews," said Betty Mariton, who worked at the township from 1971-73.

Another worker, Dorothy Shaw, who worked for Touchette from 1972-78, said workers were regularly told to pick up voters and take them to the polls.

"They told you where to go, how to do it and who to get," Shaw said. "If you didn't you would lose your job."

A former election judge at Precinct 27 told her she was given general assistance checks—whether she worked for Touchette—while she was a full-time employee of a local school district.

"I knew I was drawing the relief check specifically because I did what Francis told me to," she said.

Additionally, the election judge, who refused to use her name, said she received up to $200 cash per election to stuff ballot boxes and invalidate ballots that didn't go along with Touchette-backed candidates.

"Francis would say to me, 'Give me good showing,'" the election judge said.

The money, she said, came directly from Touchette, but generally was handed to her by other Touchette supporters.

"I separate the bad ballots. There are about four or five good ones at a time," the judge said. "I would take (voters') hands, direct them to the right candidates and tell them I'm only doing what they wanted me to do. I'd go off with at least $200 per election."

The judge said she herself voted as many as five times, would burn ballots in a trash can to prevent them from being counted or invalidated by poll watchers.

The judge also told of how the Precinct 27 ballot box, already sealed with scores of false ballots cast by Touchette supporters, was collected by two pre-determined people at the St. Clair County Building during election night returns.

"It was always the same two people, the judge said. "They would say, 'We're going to take the box and not put it in with the others but go somewhere else. I just walked away."

Touchette refused comment on the judge's story.

With more than 2,400 general assistance check recipients—each receiving only about $160 per month—case workers said they were in a position to intimidate their clients for votes.

"We told people to vote a certain way," Dorothy Shaw said. "We were told by our bosses, but we knew it was Francis."

Grand jury indicts former regional tourism official

By Ed Gurney
Staff writer

EDWARDSVILLE — Ron Presson, former executive director of the Southwest Illinois tourism bureau, was indicted for theft Thursday by a Madison County grand jury.

The indictment accuses Presson of converting $10,000 in public funds to his own use.

The indictment capped an Illinois State Police investigation into financial discrepancies detected by staff members and auditors for the Highland-based tourism bureau, which is headquartered in Collinsville.

Presson, 41, resigned under pressure from the bureau board last August. He could not be reached for comment.

All but about $1,000 in financial discrepancies, including the $10,000 check, were first made public in December 1989. Former administrative assistant Deborah Davis, 37, of rural Collinsville provided information about financial problems at the bureau.

The grand jury charged that Presson on May 9, 1989, "knowingly obtained construction contracts over $10,000 for the purpose of paying for a promotional film while knowing that said film was already paid for, and converting said $10,000 to pay for a personal debt."

A bureau check was allegedly written to Landmark Bank to pay back a loan Presson obtained from Phil Casper of Omnibus Studios.

"I'm sorry," Davis, Bob Emrovick (assistant under Presson and executive director from last fall until he resigned in May) and a state police investigator reportedly testified before the grand jury on Aug. 2.

Results of the state police investigation, requested by the tourism board after a special audit, had been handed over to the Madison County State's Attorney's Office on July 1.

Associate Judge Lawrence Keshner ordered an arrest warrant for Presson issued and set bond at $20,000.

A spokesman for the circuit court's office said Presson is expected to be taken into custody on Monday.

"I'm really happy to see they at least indicted him," Davis said. "That's why I went to the state and quit my job."

She said she left in December because the board did not act on evidence she gave it last summer.

There's lots more that will never be found. The grand jury was basically interested in the $10,000 check," Davis said.

Grand jurors asked about other things that were unethical or criminal, she said.

The tourism board put in a claim to its bonding company, which has attempted to recover money from Presson.

"My hope is that the bureau will make it right again. That's the reason one has insurance," said Jo Kathmann, chairman of the authority board.

"I think the whole situation is sad," she added.

Others said the board is partly at fault because it didn't monitor Presson.

"When I came to you with everything, they still hadn't noticed the police," Davis told a reporter. "That wasn't until the first of this month. You hadn't presented all those news articles they never would have gone to the state police."

Davis criticized the state Department of Commerce and Tourism for not monitoring the expenditure of state tourism funds.

She said Kathmann and fellow board member Bill Berry were "two of the biggest culprits" in trying to keep the financial discrepancies quiet.

Berry and Kathmann disagreed. "Once the problems were brought to our attention, we took action on it," Berry said.

That's her (Davis') opinion," Kathmann said. "I certainly think the board operated in quick fashion."

Davis said she has been unable to find a permanent full-time job since resigning from the tourism board.

A bureau audit reportedly showed about $7,000 in other payments to Presson in the 1988-89 year that did not appear to be substantiated.

The tourism board put in a claim to its bonding company, which has attempted to recover money from Presson.

"My hope is that the bureau will make it right again. That's the reason one has insurance," said Jo Kathmann, chairman of the authority board.

PONTIAC BEACH — A 26-year-old man with a long string of felony convictions was sentenced to 14 years in prison last week for two forgery convictions.

Jerry Bradford, who until recently lived in Glen Carbon before moving to Pontiac Beach, received two consecutive seven-year sentences from Associate Judge Lawrence Keshner.

Assistant State's Attorney Todd Taplin, who prosecuted Bradford, said he believes Keshner took into account Bradford's prior criminal record as well as his behavior in incidents before and after the 1989 forgeries.

Bradford was charged with aggravated battery in a 1988 incident in Collinsville and, while on bond and awaiting prosecution, forged checks for the checks. Taplin said Bradford had previous burglary, theft and forgery convictions in Madison and St. Clair counties and in Texas, got into deeper trouble while awaiting sentencing for the more recent charges.

Taplin said Bradford forcibly raped a 23-year-old Edwardsville woman "the morning he was to be sentenced" on the battery and forgery charges on July 5, 1989. After appealing the sentence, he asked that Bradford's sentencing be postponed.

Taplin said he believes that testimony of the rape victim in the Tuesday sentencing hearing reinforced Keshner's belief that Bradford "had no business" on the streets, particularly with his current propensity for violence."

Under the state's "day-for-day good-time" policy, Bradford could be eligible for parole in seven years, Taplin said.

3-year term in abuse case

By John Milazzo
Staff writer

EDWARDSVILLE — Formerly a Coalville auxiliary police officer for four years in the mid-1960s, a convicted man was sentenced Wednesday to three years in prison for sexually abusing one of his daughters over a period of 22 years.

She told of undergoing an abortion in Granite City.

According to testimony by the 28-year-old daughter in the sentencing hearing before Madison County Associate Judge Lawrence Keshner, the abuse began when she was six years old and resulted in five pregnancies, one induced miscarriage and three abortions.

The woman said that she did not reveal the abuse because of demands by her father.

She remained at home after she became an adult because of financial problems. She said the attacks occurred as often as "two or three times a week."

The father, who turned 50 the day before the sentencing, was arrested in December after the woman said she "got tired of living with it" and decided to volunteer information about the attacks.

Her father pleaded guilty in July to a charge of sexual relations with a family member, a Class 3 felony.

In her testimony, the woman said that she has been ostracized by her mother, two sisters and other family members since going to authorities with the information.

Her decision to report the abuse was also based on a desire to protect other daughters still living in the home.

In questioning by Assistant State's Attorney Kit Morrissey, the woman said she was 13 when she first became pregnant by her father.

She said that, when she told him of her condition, his response was that he would "help me get rid of it by bouncing me up and down the steps, punching me in the stomach and giving me Valium."

The victim said that pregnancy was terminated by induced abortion, which she subsequently was made pregnant by her father at the ages of 15, 17, 19 and 25.

She gave birth to one baby and the infant was placed for adoption, she said.

At least one of her three abortions was performed at the Hope Clinic in Granite City, the woman said.

More serious charges of child sex abuse were to be brought against the man—who in recent years had been living with his family in Staunton and was living in a Cahokia trailer park at the time of his arrest—because the victim did not come forward with the accusations soon enough.

Morrissey said the woman did not report the incidents within time allowed by statute of limitations after turning 18.

Profit-sharing plans in Illinois

Half (50 percent) of the Illinois firms surveyed make a profit sharing plan available to their office staff, according to The Management Association's Personnel Practices Survey. Half (53.2 percent) of those with a pension plan provide it with a defined benefit.

The Personnel Practices Survey residents responses from nearly 400 Illinois firms. This survey indicates trends in personnel policies and benefits. Results are divided into six major categories: pay practices; working conditions; health benefits; recruitment; training; employee/community relations, and Labor Relations.

FORGET THE WORK and feel comfortable with the nutrition with a Labor Day salad like Franks and Pasta Salad.

Easy salads minimize labor for 'last' picnic

Labor Day, the last official holiday before the school season takes over completely, comes with a flurry of "last" activities that end the summer.

While warm weather hangs around, longer days of light do not, so this is usually the occasion for a last big daytime outing.

Whether it is a family reunion at a park, a block party down the street or a tournament on the tennis court, Labor Day is a special time for an outdoor feast. To stay in step with the meaning of this holiday, preparation for a Labor Day celebration should not take a lot of work.

Franks and Pasta Salad is a crowd pleaser, yet easy to make by mixing cooked pasta with franks, colorful vegetables and a light dressing. It can be made the day before the outing, so salt flavors have time to blend. Crunchy Mexican Turkey Salad is a low-fat version of Scotch eggs that substitutes ground turkey for other sausage. Crisp Apple and Turkey Salad is a nutritious variation of a classic Waldorf salad.

Whether the season may be ending, the warm weather does not allow a letdown in safety precautions, so be sure to carry food to a picnic with plenty of ice in an (See PICNIC, Page 11A)

Barbecued garlic tops beef, bread for flavor

To spice up a Labor Day Picnic don't forget the garlic when you bring out the barbecue grill. The pungent hot result can be squeezed over both meat and vegetables for an extra holiday zing.

Peel outer skin layers from 8 whole heads of fresh garlic, leaving cloves and head intact. Place all heads on double thickness of foil. Top with  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup butter or olive oil along with 4 sprigs fresh or 2 teaspoons dried rosemary or oregano. Fold up and seal. Cook over hot coals, turning occasionally, 40 to 45 minutes.

Squeeze garlic cloves onto cooked meat and vegetables just before serving. Extra garlic can be squeezed onto French or rye rounds.

Makes 8 servings.

Note: Instead of barbecuing, bake in 375° oven 55 to 60 minutes.

STUDENTS NEED HOME IN OUR COMMUNITY

Pablo Rubin Orozco from Spain and Gunnar Lehmann from West Germany are anxiously awaiting news that there is a family in the Granite City area who will help fulfill their dreams of spending a year in America. Pablo enjoys basketball, football, tennis, swimming and running. Gunnar enjoys reading, photography, playing squash and getting together with friends. Pablo and Gunnar are hoping to pursue some of these interests during their exchange year and also look forward to sharing their American interests and hobbies that they can share with their friends when they return to their home countries.

Each year, ASSE International Student Exchange programs provide qualified European students with the opportunity to spend an Academic year in America attending a local high school and learning about life in America. If your family would like to help make Pablo or Gunnar's year in the Granite City area possible, please call ASSE's U.S. Representative Barb or Wayne Rehm at 618/876-0138 or ASSE's toll free number at 1-800-333-3802.

ASSE, a non-profit organization, is dedicated to fostering international relationships between countries through cultural exchange.

Miners eliminated in Night League playoffs

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

EDWARDSVILLE — The Miners have picked the wrong time to start losing one-run games.

Granite City lost by the slimness of margins for the fourth straight game. This time, and this was really costly, them. Bill Luther's two-out home run in the top of the ninth inning gave Millstadt a 6-5 win in the Metro East Night League play-off series at Hoppe Park. Millstadt, which had to win a 9-4 decision from East Alton on Tuesday just to nail down the final playoff spot, now adds another loss to the Night League championship game next Wednesday against Trenton.

The Miners (31-17), who won the regular-season title, were left to concentrate on this week end. Monday's League play-offs are there were beaten in the first round of the Night League playoffs for the second straight year.

"I'm actually kind of glad to be getting out of this league, but it still makes me feel like I'm not in the game," said Miner catcher/manager Daren DePew. "We still took first place in the regular season, so that's something to be proud of."

"It's rough sometimes. I couldn't find any umpires for this game. I spent every spare minute I had today trying to line somebody up (the game was scheduled only Wednesday night).

As it turned out, Miner pitcher Mark Begando served as the home plate umpire and Millstadt furnished the base umpires.

The Miners, finally on pulling out of the Night League, but had a legitimate shot at winning the play-off title. That is until Luther, the all-time hits leader in SEM, spoiled the party. Luther's home run off Darin Hendrickson (9-3), who came in to pitch the ninth, was the only ball Millstadt hit out of the infield in the last four innings. Mark Bowen had done a fantastic job for 3½ innings, but Rich Takemjian pinch-hit for Bowen in the eighth to drive in the tying run.

Hendrickson got the first two outs quickly in the ninth before Luther's blast.

"I was breaking ball and a good pitch," said DePew. "But Billy Luther is a great hitter."

DePew took the loss hard. He was 0 for 5, but most of his teammates have also had trouble coming up with clutch hits in the last week.

"I guess I'm just not very good," he said. "How many times can one guy come up with a chance to win a game and not do it?"

Actually, DePew batted with men on base only twice this day. After Tom Greco singled with one out in the ninth off winning pitcher Aaron Smith, DePew fouled out before John Mead made a bid for a home run, but fled out to straightaway center.

Mead started on the mound and was hot hard in the first two innings, but gave up two runs. The Miners got RBI hits from Tim Hogan and Hendrickson in the second and another run scored on an error, and Millstadt got three in a fifth to take a 3-3 lead on Kevin Kirzian's home run at first base and Jon Hand's RBI triple.

That triple was the last hit of the game. Both teams had to wait for Luther batted in the ninth.

Greco got one run back in the fifth with his first home run since July 1. Jamie Hogan singled, stole second and third, then scored on Takemjian's infield out in the eighth for a 5-5 tie.

Work on Hall of Fame building resumes

Work on the Granite City Sports Hall of Fame building will resume as the 1990-91 school year begins under the guidance of Tom Holloway and Roger Waldrup.

The Hall can be seen easily from Fehling Road lying just south of Memorial Park. It is hoped that the building will be completed in time for the opening of the 1991 football season. One of the most spectacular parts of the building will be a huge mural showing colored brick that members of the Bricklayers Union will mortar in the side, to be visible from the street.

I've seen a drawing and it is truly a thing of beauty. The at the University of Illinois during the 1941-42 season. Just recently, I received the glove and uniform of John (Champ) Summers from the New York Yankees.

One of the main ideas of the Hall of Fame is that such old treasures aren't lost to future generations. Anyone with any memorabilia or artifacts is asked to call 452-0433 or 2103 Amos, Apt. A.

Many thanks go to the young men and women at Granite City High School who have unselfishly given their talents in the building of the Hall of Fame. They include Gene Bates, Kirk Beam, Sherri Bridges, Mike Davis, Hay Hanks, Ron Lee, Terry and Tina Lueckerath, Chris McRae, Vicki Miller, Todd Miller, Kent Poiter, Nick

(See BARNES, Page 4B)

Al Barnes

Bricklayers, as well as all other trades, have been outstanding in their support of the Hall of Fame.

I want to urge once again that all the men and women who have been inducted into the Granite City Sports Hall of Fame to continue to turn over to me or any other members of the committee any unused photos, photo uniforms, etc., for display.

Andy Phillip has given me the uniform and sweat suit he wore

SLUH tops 1st Journal soccer coaches' poll

By Jim Woodcock
Staff writer

St. Louis rivals St. Louis University and CBC usually find a way to meet near the end of the season. This year, they're already in competition against each other.

The senior Boys Billed CBC by seven points in the Suburban Journals' pre-season soccer poll, voted on last week by 13 of the top high school coaches on both sides of the river. Two voting coaches were absent.

CBC and defending Missouri 4A champion Hazelwood Central each gained four first-place votes, one more than the Juniors received. However, SLUH finished on top by being voted no lower than No. 4 on all 13 ballots.

SLUH finished with 111 points, just ahead of the Cadets (104), but well in front of third-place

Sports

Junior high football set to start Aug. 28

Junior high football practice in Granite City will begin the first day of school (Aug. 28). Athletes will pick up equipment and parent permission forms on that date.

Parents are reminded that this year seventh graders can participate and that everyone must have a recent physical exam in order to play football. All athletes should bring proof of their physical to practice on the first day.

QCSA begins Sept. 8

The Quad-Cities Soccer Association fall season begins Sept. 8. Space is available for boys and girls born anywhere from 1980 to 1984. For more information, call 876-9000.

MCGSA registration held on Saturdays

The Madison County Girls Soccer Association will have a registration at the Brown Recreation Center on Aug. 25 and Sept. 1.

Registration on both days will be from 1-3 p.m. at the center, 2101 Alton Ave. Girls born from 1977 to 1985 who are not already on a team and wish to play soccer this fall will be registered. No money is required to register. Fall season will consist of 12 games beginning Sept. 3. For more information, call Brian Gore at 931-6932 or Jack McKechnie at 877-3910.

WINNERS IN EAST ALTON: The Shockers took first place in the East Alton Parks and Recreation Youth Baseball Tournament recently at Van Preter Park. All but two of the players are from Granite City and play for teams in the park district leagues. The Shockers, a select team, beat Staunton KC 12-1 for the championship on Aug. 19. Team members include, front row left to right, Patrick Logan, Jeremy Puent, Brad Goff, Vince Wittenburg and Johnny Mills; middle row, Donnie Brueckman, Brian Kamaduski, Ritchie Kismar, Craig Murphy, Zach Miller and Dustin Brewer; back row, coach Dennis Brewer, manager Wally Goff and coach Roger Brueckman. Not pictured are Jonathan Burnett and coach Ralph Burnett.

GC Steel hosting Class C tourney

The Granite City Steel Softball Association is holding the NSA Men's Class C summer softball Tournament on Sept. 7-9 at the National Steel Recreational Facility.

The entry fee is $125 per team and expense money purse is $1200, based on 16 teams. All interested teams should contact Mike Kmetz at 876-6371.

Got a sports tip? An announcement of an upcoming sports event? Or maybe your league would like to have its scores and standings published in our Scoreboard section. Anyone with any worthwhile sports information should call the sports department at 876-2000.

Hazelwood, Central, (79). Each coach voted for 10 teams, with 10 points awarded to the No. 1 team, nine to the No. 2 team, etc.

The Junior Bills, who have been eliminated in post-season play by the top two seed teams, are losing their letterman jackets from the team that was defeated 3-1 by the Cadets in last year's sectionals. Only three SLUH lettermen return from last season's team.

CRC will be attempting to reach the AA Final Four for the second time in three years. Last season the Cadets, the AA state champs in 1988, were ousted by Oakville.

Oakville, No. 5 in the pre-season voting, was eliminated in the Final Four last year by eventual champion Hazelwood Central. The Tigers finished 11 points behind Marquette and Metro East Lutheran (4 p.m.) and the Warrior tennis team hosts Triad at 4 p.m.

Mayor's message: Growth continues throughout village

By Glen Wilson
President, Village Board of Pontoon Beach

The Village of Pontoon Beach is continuing to grow and prosper, and indications are that this will persist.

We have experienced some growing pains, which were expected. However, through it all, I am pleased to report lots of improvements and changes within this past year.

The village entered into a contract with Lenthal & Horwath for a feasibility study to be done for the Mid-America Aquacenter, with Pontoon Beach as the prime site for the facility.

This has resulted in donations of land from area residents. At the present time, we are awaiting word from the state regarding funding, the actual site, etc.

"We have experienced some growing pains, which were expected. However, through it all, I am pleased to report lots of improvements and changes within this past year."

We have remodeled our conference room along with landscaping in front of the Village Hall. A new telephone system has been installed in the Village Hall, separating village governmental phone numbers from those of the Pontoon Beach Police Department.

We also entered the 911 Enhanced System agreement (for response to emergencies) and acquired the services of Metro Ambulance Service for our residents.

Community Development funds have been made available to the village to install an elevator in our building to provide access for the handicapped to the Village Hall.

A Special Service Area-Water committee was appointed to draw up plans for a special service area to provide water to some of the southern portion of Pontoon Beach.

The Village Board established a municipal hotel/motel tax and ratified the appointment of a Tourism Committee.

Our list of businesses within the village continues to grow. Included are J & A's Produce, Fowler Data Company, Crews Realty, Custom Golf Clubs, Gwen's, Lankott Multi Services Corporation, Saturro Electronics and Ralph & Charlie's.

Omni Bank is closing in on its opening date, along with Crescent Parts & Supply.

We have seen additions to existing businesses such as Ridgeway's Angel Cream and the Werner Chapel for Funerals, along with rapid construction of residential and multi-family housing.

Phase II of the Timberlake Manor Subdivision is nearing completion. Plans for the final phase of Timberlake have been submitted to the Board of Trustees for review.

We are definitely on the move here in Pontoon Beach.

The annexations over the past few years have left us with much land to develop in our future and we welcome an opportunity to be helpful in any way possible.

PONTOON BEACH — Talk about the Mid-America Aquacenter, proposed for the village, always involves big numbers:

- $40 million to $50 million to construct.

- 1,600 jobs.

- Up to one million in yearly attendance; and

- $150 million a year in spinoff revenue for the village and surrounding area.

With so much money at stake, it's not surprising that a controversy is bubbling over where the Aquacenter will be located.

Pontoon Beach originally lured the Aquacenter, but lately, Collinsville has been trying to get it.

The Collinsville Metropolitan Exposition Auditorium and Building Authority has requested $450,000 in state funds for a feasibility study and has gotten in line for a grant of up to $17 million for the Aquacenter's construction.

To qualify for major state funding, the convention authority would have to expand its boundaries in order to increase its base of assessed valuation. Collinsville Mayor Gene Brombolich has suggested including all of the Quad City area within the authority's boundaries, but the mayors of the other municipalities have been cool to that idea.

Pontoon Beach Mayor Glen Wilson and Brombolich have both touted their communities as ideal locations for the center. Two landowners in the village have offered plots of free land.

Charles Luehmann has offered a 99-year free lease on 60 acres near the intersection of Interstate 255 and Illinois 162. Emert Wyss has offered 55 acres at the southeast corner of I-270 and Illinois 111.

Brombolich and Gary Fears, developer of Eastport Plaza in Collinsville, have suggested land at State Aid 35 and I-255, in an unincorporated area between Pontoon Beach and Collinsville.

But lately, the respective contenders have been smoothing over their differences to try and ensure that the Aquacenter doesn't wind up in St. Louis.

"Wherever it goes, it will build the whole of Madison County," said Leonard Sonnenschein recently while being interviewed on WRYT radio. Sonnenschein is the Aquacenter's president and executive director.

Sonnenschein based his financial projections on the economic impact of the National Aquarium in Baltimore on the surrounding community, and on results of a $50,000 feasibility study paid for by the village.

Sonnenschein appeared on the radio station with Mayor Wilson and Judy Chopping, executive director of the convention authority. The three took great pains to stress the positive benefits of having the Aquacenter in southwestern Illinois and to downplay whatever competition exists for getting the actual site.

"There's no controversy with Collinsville," Wilson said. "It will take everybody working together."

Still, he noted that the offers of free land in Pontoon Beach should make the village a more attractive site.

Chopping countered that "free land is not always better," but she conceded, "That's got to be a consideration."

Later, after he got off the air, Wilson admitted that he hoped the Aquacenter would be located in the village, but said he would support it if a feasibility study said Collinsville would be the best site.

The feasibility study is expected to be completed by November, Sonnenschein said.

He said the Aquacenter — wherever it is built — should be ready to open by the spring of 1993.

Stay tuned.

Library to mark first year

The fledgling Pontoon Beach Village Library, which held its grand opening on Oct. 1, 1989, will be celebrating the completion of its first year of public service on Saturday, Sept. 29.

Events, beginning at 10 a.m., will include music by four bands as well as dance demonstrations by two groups.

Craft and flea market table spaces are available to the public for a small rental fee.

Demonstrations of firefighting and ambulance apparatus will be given, along with a display of the police abilities of the Pontoon Beach police dog, Diablo.

A nurse will provide free blood pressure checks, and there will be a sale of surplus books. Cake walks, fishing ponds, and hula hoop contests will provide other opportunities to participate in fund-raising for the library.

Food will be available to buy.

The Village of Pontoon Beach Library was established by the village board and volunteers to provide free library services to the Pontoon Beach area.

The library is located in a storefront in the Oakmont Center on Pontoon Road. The library space was donated to the village by Jim Green.

All Pontoon Beach library workers have worked without compensation of any kind, and all books and materials in the library have been donated.

Lynn Cavar is providing the village with day-to-day library services on a volunteer basis.

In the first year of library operations, Lynn Cavar and others who volunteer their services have checked out books and materials to 2,370 patrons.

A spokesman said, "This tremendous response, which includes the registration of 191 new library users since Jan. 1, 1990, indicates that the library services are appreciated and well used by the public."

The library has a three-person board of directors which works with a larger library committee to oversee and plan operations.

This committee and village officials were responsible for raising funds and goods needed to begin library operations.

Several new houses being built in village

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

PONTOON BEACH — New houses are springing up all over the village and the trend is likely to continue, according to Harold Cavins, president of the Granite City Board of Realtors.

The Lakeview, Timberlake, Perigan Estates and Chouteau Trace subdivisions are all well under way. Several other developers have approached the Village Zoning Board with preliminary plans for more subdivisions.

"The suburbs of St. Louis have spread as far west as they can go," Cavins said. "Now, new-home growth is crossing the river to our side."

"The Quad City area has a great future as a bedroom community of St. Louis. In the case of Pontoon Beach, its growth is going to be even bigger and faster than the growth of Fairview Heights was a few years ago."

Marian Cavins
...Crews' promotion

Crews, Cavins excited about Pontoon growth

George Crews, owner of Crews Realty/Better Homes and Gardens, has announced the promotion of Marian B. Cavins to broker/manager of Crews Realty, Better Homes and Garden's new branch office located at 4140 Pontoon Road.

Cavins has been in the real estate profession in Granite City since 1980 and has been the recipient of many professional awards during that time.

She is a licensed real estate broker and also is licensed by the state of Illinois as a real estate instructor. She attended the local schools and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Cavins said that, with the shift of housing in the local area, she believes that the new branch office was needed to serve the interest of all of the clients of Crews Realty/Better Homes and Gardens.

She added that she thinks the Pontoon Beach area will be the local area's "St. Clair Square, in a few years." She said she is "excited about the growth of the Pontoon Beach area."

Cavins said Pontoon Beach's well-maintained state highways are connected to the federal interstates with easily accessible exchanges.

Major exchanges include Illinois 111 at Interstate 255, Illinois 162 at Interstate 255, State Aid 35 at Interstate 255, Interstate 255 at Interstate 270, Interstate 270 and Illinois 111, and Illinois 111 at Interstate 55/70.

"When it comes to drive-time, there is no comparison with west St. Louis County," he said. "It's at least half the time to anywhere" (adding to the advantage of living in Illinois).

Cavins said he is very impressed with the village's Zoning Board.

"They're controlling what's going up — no one is going to build junk houses," he said. "At the same time, they are cooperative with developers. They're not creating obstacles."

Although Pontoon Beach now lacks a major shopping district,

Cavins predicts that will change.

"More houses mean more shopping centers," he said. "They will come."

Pontoon Beach covers a very large area and, Cavins said, many more houses will be built — and all of them will be sold.

"If you look at the future of the area, it's Pontoon Beach," he said.

Business owners form association

More than a dozen Pontoon Beach business owners and operators sat down to voice their feelings and concerns about their ever-growing community in an open, "no-holds-barred" discussion Aug. 18.

"We just felt that it was time that we get together and plan out some sort of direction," said Dennis Ridgeway, of Ridgeway's Angel Cream and Barbecue Restaurant, 4007 Pontoon Road.

Several voiced concerned that much of the recent rapid expansion of the area was being credited to larger, established companies that have opened units in the area.

"Pontoon Beach," Ridgeway continued, "is for the most part a grass-root community and that's where its growth will come from."

The Pontoon Beach Business Association plans to hold open discussions, at least once a month. Anyone interested in attending should contact Dennis Ridgeway at 797-6113.

IN ATTENDANCE at the first meeting of the Pontoon Beach Business Association were, from left, Mike Presson of Presson Tax Service; Jim Luesse of LeRoy's Market; Charlie Bernaix of Dairy Queen of Pontoon Beach; Dennis Ridgeway of Ridgeway's Angel Cream and Barbecue Restaurant; Patrick Breeze of Breeze Bicycle Repair; and Betty and Lee Ridgeway also of Ridgeway's Angel Cream.

Ambulance firm cruising along

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

PONTOON BEACH — Metro Ambulance Service Inc., 4274 Illinois 162, is both one of the village's newest residents and services.

"The stork flew over and we were born June 1," said operator David Stahlhut. At that time, the firm opened with a contract to serve Chouteau Township.

Since then, Metro has signed a service contract with the Village of Pontoon Beach and is working on a final contract with Nameoki Township.

Metro has two ambulances, six emergency medical technicians and four paramedics. It handles emergencies, transfer calls and long-distance transport.

In September, Stahlhut said, Metro should receive state approval for Advanced Life Support status, allowing the service to work up to its full capability.

"Then our paramedics can work as paramedics. Instead of being limited to putting on the oxygen mask and scooping them up and running, the paramedics can start IVs, defibrillate and all the other TV stuff."

Stahlhut said Metro plans to add more ambulances to its fleet and, within a year, add one or two more base stations.

In the meantime, Stahlhut said, "We're not just sitting back waiting for the phone to ring off the hook. We're involved in community activities."

During September, Metro will be conducting several "show-and-tell" demonstrations in conjunction with National Emergency Medical Services Week.

On Sept. 21, Metro will join the other-area ambulance services for an open house at St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City. On Sept. 22, Metro will hold a demonstration at Anderson Hospital in Maryville.

Then, on Sept. 29, Metro will hold a demonstration at the Pontoon Beach Free Library in Oakmont Plaza near Pontoon Road.

PONTOON BEACH — When Omni Bank opens its doors to the public on Oct. 1, it will be the first bank located in Pontoon Beach.

The bank's president, John "Jerry" McDonald, said the idea to start a new bank came to him several years ago when construction was completed at Interstates 255 and 270.

"I said to myself, 'My goodness, this is going to be a growing area,'" McDonald said.

Construction work on the new bank, located at 5111 Illinois 111, began in May. The cost, including the price of the land, will total $620,000.

McDonald said he hopes construction is completed by Sept. 14, but he said frequent rains this summer have slowed the project and may delay the completion beyond that date.

He said Omni will be a full-service bank offering "all the basics," including checking, savings, CDs (certificates of deposit) and other services. But the bank will concentrate on small customers rather than large businesses, he emphasized.

"We plan to be more consumer-oriented," McDonald said. "We built all of our statistics on individual consumers because that's what's here."

Omni Bank is only the fourth entirely new bank in southern Illinois to get a charter from the state in the last 10 years, McDonald said.

"In order to get a bank charter, the people involved have to do a demographic survey of the area," he said. "They need to prove the viability, the need for and the potential success of the area to support a bank."

The bank now has assets of $1.5 million from the sale of stock to investors.

When his study was conducted two years ago, McDonald and other bank investors concluded that Pontoon Beach would be a growing environment in which a bank could prove very successful.

"We think this is a good market and a growing area," he said.

McDonald has been in the banking business since 1949, when he began work at the Marine Bank in Springfield, his hometown.

He came to Granite City in 1968 to serve as vice president of the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank (now a part of Central Bank).

The board of directors of Omni Bank was elected at the first annual shareholders meeting, held Dec. 7, 1989.

McDonald is chairman and president, Harold Tracy vice chairman, Joseph Hassler treasurer and Velda Taylor, secretary. Other directors are Ralph Ellsworth, Floyd Foreman Jr., James Hopkins, Elmer Miller and Anne slate.

Pontoon Progress

Fine restaurants along Pontoon Road

By Sam Hananel
Staff writer

PONTOON BEACH — When Don Ridgeway opened his Angel Cream ice cream stand four years ago, it was so successful he decided to open a full restaurant one year later.

Now he is the owner of Ridgeway's Angel Cream & Bar-B-Q Restaurant, 4009 Pontoon Road, offering sit-down dining as well as drive-through service.

"We're kind of down to earth here," he said.

Ridgeway's partners in the restaurant are his parents, Lee and Betty Ridgeway. "Everything we do is as a family," he said.

Even his three children, ages six, 10 and 12, help out in various capacities when they are not at school. "In fact, my six-year-old makes one of the best ice-cream cones you've ever seen in your life," Ridgeway said.

Besides his family, Ridgeway has six employees working at the restaurant.

"My wife is here every day," Ridgeway said. "She assists me with payroll and everything else."

The menu includes everything from submarine sandwiches, chicken and country fried steaks to specialty items that Ridgeway created himself. He described the Springfield Horseshoe, for example, as a croissant with roast beef, ham and turkey that is surrounded with french fries and covered with hot cheese dip.

Another specialty the restaurant offers is menu features for the day, such as cod, catfish and shrimp on Fridays.

Ridgeway said a favorite Friday specialty is catfish fritters, bite-size pieces of fried catfish served with cocktail sauce.

Ridgeway pointed with pride to his custom-made rotisserie smoker, which uses real hickory logs and a rotating rack to smoke up to 350 pounds of meat at a time.

When Ridgeway develops a new recipe, he said, the whole family tries it out before it becomes a menu item. "If it doesn't get approved by Mom, it doesn't go," he said.

A new dining room opening in early October will more than double Ridgeway's present seating capacity to 70 people. The additional space will also allow Ridgeway to expand his serving and cooking staff, as well as his menu.

Ridgeway said the restaurant will begin some very unconventional practices, such as formally introducing waitresses to dining room customers, having the entire staff sing at birthday and anniversary dinners, and bringing out helpings of extra food to customers even when they did not order it. "You might even have a biscuit thrown at your head," he said.

"We've always wanted a crazy place. Our goal is to become one of the most unique restaurants in the world," he said.

The old dining room will be used to serve ice cream and frozen yogurt on a sit-down or carry-out basis.

The restaurant is open from 11 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday but will open seven days a week after the new dining room is finished. Ridgeway said he will also begin serving breakfast in the future.

Right next door to Ridgeway's restaurant is Mac's Village Inn, 4015 Pontoon Road, a tavern that opened for business in February.

Although the tavern serves mostly bar food and other fast-food items, owner Rich McIntosh said he offers some specialty dishes such as Italian beef, catfish nuggets, cod, jack salmon and hot wings.

McIntosh also bragged about his special pizza burgers, which are sirloin steak, topped with melted mozzarella cheese and pizza sauce. "They're our own. They have not been copied by anyone," he said.

Rich McIntosh and his wife are the primary operators and part owners (together with Rich's brother, Tom, and his wife) of Mac's Village Inn.

The brothers, under the company name Brothers Two Inc., also own another tavern in Madison, Mac's 12th Street Saloon, which is operated by Tom McIntosh.

"One thing with this tavern that's unique is we don't put up with tony trouble," McIntosh said. "It's a family-oriented tav

FIRST CUSTOMERS FOR LUNCH: Bob and Susan Bryant of Pontoon Beach place their lunch order with Ralph and Charlie's waitress Carmen Bridges. Owner David Thebeau reopened Ralph and Charlie's Aug. 13 at 4020 Pontoon Road in the Oakmont Shopping Center. It had been closed for 14 months after a fire destroyed the restaurant on Fourth Street in Madison. It is open Monday through Thursday, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Friday 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.; Saturday, 4 p.m. to 5 a.m.; and Sunday, 11 a.m. to midnight.

The tavern holds up to 150 people in the entire restaurant area, which includes the inner dining area, the bar, a private room for banquets and parties, a screened-in patio and an outdoor seating area in back.

McIntosh said business has been good since the tavern opened a year ago.

"I think the people of Pontoon Beach support the businesses out here real well," McIntosh said. He is planning to remodel and enlarge the bar area this fall.

There are two televisions in the bar/dining area for sports events and the tavern always serves "real cold beer."

Mac's Village Inn is open from 9 a.m. to 2 a.m. Monday through Thursday, 9 a.m. to 3 a.m. on Friday and Saturday and noon to 2 a.m. Sunday.

The Dairy Queen at 3901 Pontoon Road has been owned and operated by Charlie Bernaix and his wife, June, since Feb. 29, 1988.

The Bernaix Dairy Queen is a Dairy Queen/Brazier restaurant, which means it offers a full line of food items as well as the well-known ice cream products.

Bernaix remodeled and expanded the restaurant about a year ago.

Although he still maintains a full-time position as a captain with the Granite City Fire Department, he said he is in the restaurant as often as he can be. This is Bernaix's first entry into the restaurant business. His wife works full time as manager of the Dairy Queen.

Quality living offered at Quality Beach

By Sam Hananel
Staff writer

PONTOON BEACH — Don Peacock works seven days a week.

As the owner and president of Quality Beach Homes, a mobile home park, Peacock keeps a vigilant eye out for any signs of problems that could disturb the tranquil setting of the park.

Since development began nearly two years ago, the park has grown to include 100 mobile homes occupied by more than 300 residents. Eventually, 300 homes will be located at Quality Beach, according to Peacock.

"It's not your average mobile home park," he said.

Quality Beach Homes are located north of Illinois 162 and west of the Quiet Valley Subdivision. At the center of the 112-acre park is a 50-acre man-made lake stocked with an assortment of fish.

While the homes currently in the park are grouped around the western edge of Quality Beach Lake, Peacock ultimately would like to see homes surrounding the lake and approaching a privately-owned wooded area to the east.

To assure high living standards, Peacock maintains a strict set of rules and regulations for residents to follow.

All mobile homes are subject to approval and must have been manufactured no earlier than five years prior to being located in the park.

Tenants are responsible for the cleanliness and appearance of their lots and any continued neglect constitutes grounds for management to terminate the lease.

"We've got (everything) from retirees to families to young singles," Peacock said of the Quality Beach community.

Services provided free to residents include garbage pickup and sewer and water service. The complex also provides basic cable television service for an additional $10.95 per month and lawn services at $10 per mowing.

The 100 homes comprise phases I and II of construction at Quality Beach. Peacock said he hopes to begin construction on phase III this year, including 75 more lots and several new access roads.

Residents may either buy a mobile home from Peacock or bring their own, as long as it meets standards set by Quality Beach. Peacock carries Redman and Faqua brand mobile homes.

"It's got everything you'd have in a conventional house for a lot less money," Peacock said, referring to the advantages of living in a mobile home.

According to sales manager Joe Ernst, a single-width mobile home usually runs from $15,900 to $25,000 and a double-width home costs $29,000 to $39,000.

Some single-width homes come with an "expando room" or "tip out" feature, which allows residents to push out a portion of the mobile home to have an enlarged room. When the home is being moved, the room can be pushed in again.

Ernst said the average size of a lot for a single-wide home is 50 by 150 feet and the average size for a double-wide home is 100 by 175.

Lot rental for a single-wide home is $175 a month for homes facing the lake and $165 a month along the outer perimeter.

For double-wide homes, it costs $185 a month to locate along the lake and $175 to be on the outer perimeter.

Peacock said about eight to 10 new residents move into Quality Beach every month.

The Quality Beach sales office is located at 4441 Illinois 162.

Even fishing possible at mobile home park.
